

Dear Bookworm,

This month's selection comes with great recommendations, with a forward from Al Mohler, and endorsements from Mark Dever, Donald Whitney, and Jerry Bridges one would expect such a book to be nothing less than excellent. You will not be disappointed; the author C.J. Mahaney has richly communicated timeless truth that will bless your life. Here is a quote, "We should never move past the cross, only deeper into it. The cross is at the heart of the gospel and needs to be renewed afresh every day as we seek to live for Christ."

Living the Cross Centered Life will challenge you as it did me to ponder anew each and every day the wonders of the cross of Christ! You will enjoy the last few chapters where there is a great comparison/contrast between justification and sanctification. For some this is still a point of confusion and this is helpful in understanding the heart and mind of God in these matters. The truths found in these chapters along with the chapter on Legalism are profoundly liberating. It isn't up to me to be justified! It has already been done!

In the end allowing this book to be applied in your daily life will transform your Christian walk. Living the Cross Centered Life is not just a point of view from C.J. Mahaney, but Biblical truth freshly and wonderfully communicated.

Good reading,
Your Fellow Bookworm
